Chairman's Report

Richard Foster gave the Chairman's Report – See "WBGE Chairman's Report 2018"

He noted a change during the lifetime of WBGE whereby people were now more generally aware of climate change but did not give it the priority in their lives that it deserves. He summarised the WBGE events of last year and drew attention to the forthcoming conference on "Towards a carbon-zero West Berkshire". He reminded people that funds were still available to assist communities embarking on projects aimed at reducing climate change, and finished by thanking the committee for their work during the year.

AOB

It was mentioned that Newbury were investing £60,000 in electric charging points.

Gill Hall mentioned a recent programme on TV on Monday 24th September that was presented by Liz Bonin and was called Drowning in Plastic which she recommended.

It was also mentioned that FoE were showing the film ‘ A Plastic Ocean’ at the ACE Space in Westfields on Friday 12th October.

It was suggested that maybe it would be a good idea to re-constitute the council, business and local parties partnership now that climate change and plastics has become a more discussed subject.

The AGM was closed by Richard Foster and then Richard Marshall provided a talk on plastics.

The talk covered the following areas:-

- Impacts across entire Supply chain from farm to home
- Why we use packaging
- Types of packaging
- Why are plastics so popular
- Which of them are polluting
- Negative impacts of plastic materials
- Alternative options for packaging

After the presentation there were questions on what we can do and whether there is any place for plastics.
